A LOST ART

Regained at K.N.C.

thing More About the Good Work of Our College.

the expression, "A Lost Art," in the art of reading well often have been bored, nay, and misera by the effort of well meant individual to read. The mispronouncing, the halting, the stammering—all combine to the effort a ridiculous failure. Instances occur daily. Occasionally you hear something read in clear, with clear enunciation, correct pronunciation, and the due observance of pauses, grammatical and rhetorical. It's a decided pleasure, though a rare one, to hear reading this character. In fact it is so that the News calls it one of the arts. Well, Prof. J. H. McClure, the K. N. C., is doing much to recover and reinstate this lost art.

art of good reading. One of News staff went up to the school other day and took a lesson in reading. He didn't read any better, but he heard some lessons given the beautiful art, and the knowledge thus obtained was not only valuable to him, personally, but it convinced him that the professor both appreciates the worth of good reading and knows how to make good readers of his pupils.

He has a method all his own, and it is very effective. By its use he not only makes the pupil a good reader, but he makes him acquainted with authors and literature. His method is not only a good one, but he is patient and persistent in its use. He believes in the "If at first you don't succeed try, try again" doctrine.

The lesson for the hour the News man was present was the reading in concert of Leigh Hunt's beautiful gem "Abou Ben Adhem"; and may the "tribe" of teachers like McClure, Dillington, Kennison et al. increase!

It was done so well, so understandingly, that if the teacher had known that his room was to be visited we would have suspected the boys and girls had been drilled for the occasion. Not only did they read well and with the spirit and the understanding also, but before they were done they knew who the author was, when and where he lived, with some knowledge concerning several other authors.

We have a good school in Louisa, and let us for emphasis drop into it for a minute and say, don't you forget it.

A recent visit to the primary rooms of the Louisa Public Schools, now being taught in connection with the Kentucky Normal College, proved to the News that this important department is in very competent hands.

The pupils of the second grade, nearly 60 in number, enjoy the able teaching of Miss Mary Kirk, formerly connected with the public schools of Martin county. Although a young woman Miss Kirk has had many years of experience as a teacher, and if she taught in Martin as she teaches in Louisa, as doubtless she did, her patrons there were reluctant to let her go to other fields of labor.

The visit of the News man was not expected, therefore there was no "show" class trotted out for display. Two recitations were heard, and the manner of both teacher and pupil demonstrated conclusively that Miss Kirk is more than a teacher. She is an educator. Get out your book of synonymous and learn the difference.

If pupils are not interested in their work the routine of the schoolroom, wearing as it is under ordinary circumstances, is almost a burden to teachers and instructors. But it is a delight to the observer to notice the interest shown by most of the children in Miss Kirk's room. It was manifested in many ways, and was in pleasing contrast with the dull, apathetic indifference visible in many other schools.

Miss Kirk's relations with her pupils seemed very pleasant. Her manner was gentle and kind, yet her eyes and ears were wide open to voice and action, and the discipline was sufficient. In the acquisition of the Kirk Martin county's loss was Miss's gain.

we mistake not years ago—we not going to say how many—

Mrs. W. N. Sullivan was a successful teacher. She had not taught since her marriage until now, and this fall she was made teacher of the first grade in our public school. She has a big room full of little tots, ranging in years from 6 to 11. It requires patience, tact, perseverance, work—all these things to handle the chart, primer and first reader children and make anything out of them, and Mrs. Sullivan is accomplishing this good work. "As the twig is bent so is the tree inclined," said the wise man years ago. It was true then, it is true today. The young mind must be bent or directed toward the proper way, and if it has, unfortunately, been bent the other and wrong way it becomes the duty of her who has the first work of moulding its destinies to correct the evil and give the proper start. This is Mrs. Sullivan's responsible duty, and she is doing her work well. Her method of getting her little pupils to comprehend the rudiments of arithmetic seemed a very successful one.

Parents of the children in Mrs. Sullivan's and Miss Kirk's rooms may be satisfied that their children are in competent hands.

SILVER IN WAYNE.

Big Sandy Farmers Claim Discovery of the White Metal.

For a great many years there have been rumors that silver ore could be found in the hills of Wayne county and during the past week or so some enterprising farmers who live on the Sandy side of the county, a few miles south of Ceredo, have set about to organize a company for testing the territory. The point where it is said the white metal has been discovered is a secret, as yet, but it is thought that the first test will be made not far from the mouth of White's creek on land in which Huntington people are interested.

There is considerable talk in the Wayne community over the prospects of finding the white metal over there and the developments will be awaited with keen interest.

Victory For Woods.

About four years ago Jilson Perkins, of near Webbville, was struck by a yard engine near the C. & O. passenger depot in Ashland, and was, so he claimed, seriously injured. He brought suit for $2,000 against the company, employing John W. Woods, formerly of this place, but now County Attorney of Boyd county, to prosecute his claim. Two years after bringing the suit Jilson died, but the case had not been terminated, and his administrator authorized Woods to fight it out.

The case was tried in this county, if we are not mistaken it went twice to the Court of Appeals, resulting finally in a triumph for Perkins. His estate will be replete by $1,000, minus what the attorney will get.

Harrison Hatfield Dead.

On Sunday night Harrison Hatfield died in the county jail at Williamson, where he has been pending the decision of the Supreme Court as to his application for a new trial.

The old fellow suffered from a complication of diseases. Our readers will remember the circumstances of his trial and conviction for the poisoning of his wife shortly after his return from the Trent post office case in Charleston.

Look After the Roads.

Road overseers will do well to take advantage of good weather and do whatever they can for the improvement of the county roads before to do so becomes impossible. With co-operation on the part of those who live along the roads, and the money that is yet available, considerable work may be done before extreme bad weather sets in.

Louisa On Top.

The Louisa Football Club went to Paintsville last Saturday morning to mix things up with the pigskin outfit of that village. When the boys returned in the p. m. it was with colors flying and cries of victory. The score was 11 to 2 in a cipher in favor of the following from the forks.

STOCK LAW

In Several Districts

Of Lawrence County Will Go Into Effect Dec. 5th.

In the recent election six precincts in Lawrence county voted on the proposition of whether or not live stock shall be permitted to run at large, and in all the result was the same. After December 5th no live stock may legally be allowed to roam at large in these districts.

This makes Lawrence county precincts almost a unit on this proposition, nearly all of the others having voted the same way heretofore. The time has come when the stock law is a necessity. Fencing material is getting scarce and valuable, and all the farmers should not be compelled to keep their entire farms fenced to protect their crops from the ravages of the few pieces of stock that are turned out upon the highways.

Following are the precincts and the vote by which the law carried:

Falls of Blaine, 22 to 119.
Rockcastle, 36 to 67.
Cherokee, 43 to 96.
Twin Branch, 35 to 85.
Lower Louisa, 58 to 72.
Swetnam, 63 to 90.

Remember that December 5th is the day on which the law becomes effective.

Both Louisa districts are now under the stock law, and as the voters of the city participated in the election it is the opinion of attorneys that the law is effective here as well as throughout the precincts.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

The following proclamation has been issued by Gov. Beckham:

"In accordance with custom and the proclamation of the President of the United States, I hereby appoint Thursday, November 28, as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer throughout the Commonwealth. It is expected on that day that all of our people shall refrain from their usual business employments and give thanks to All-wise Father, who has so generously blessed us as a nation, and who has so bountifully provided for us.

"In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Commonwealth to be hereunto affixed.

"Done at Frankfort this 15th day of November, 1907.

J. C. W. BECKHAM.

What Crabbe Will Do.

The first of the new Republican officials to reach Frankfort since the election was Prof. J. G. Crabbe, elected Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Mr. Crabbe said that he intended to take the affairs of his office out of politics, and would appoint a Democrat and a Republican on the Board of Examiners. As he is the third member the board will be Republican, but the Democrats will have representation. Mr. Crabbe announced that he will appoint as his chief clerk J. P. Cullerton, who has been a close friend of his for years. His first clerk will be Thomas W. Vinson, of Lexington, and one clerkship has not been filled. During his visit here Mr. Crabbe was the guest of A. B. Hammond, who is president of the first Wilson club organized in the State.

M. F. Carter Very Ill.

It is with much regret that we announce the very serious condition of Millard F. Carter, who has been at Riverview Hospital for a short time. He has Bright's Disease and his condition has become very much worse in the last few days. His wife, son and daughter and other relatives have been at his bedside for several days.

Who He Is.

Special Judge Morris, who is conducting the fourth trial of Cale Powera at Georgetown, occupies a unique and altogether enviable position with reference to the noted case.

Previous to his appointment as special Judge he had never seen the defendant, neither has he ever read or heard a single line of testimony for or against him except that gleaned from the written opinion of the Court of Appeals, nor does he know personally or has he ever seen any of the other defendants named in the Goebel murder case.

Afflicted in 1895 with nervous prostration, Judge Morris retired from active practice of the law for the five years following. Living quietly in the suburbs of LaGrange, his home town, he did not visit Frankfort during the entire time of Bradley and Taylor administrations. Having served for sixteen years as Commonwealth's Attorney of the old Seventeenth Judicial district, he was surrounded with criminal court evidence and took no interest in any of the numerous trials of the Goebel case.

Got Twenty-one Years.

In the Circuit Court at Prestonsburg the jury in the case of Millard Ballberry, charged with the killing of his cousin, Jim Stumbo, on Beaver creek, last September, brought in a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at 21 years in the penitentiary.

The murder was a very atrocious one, and many thought the verdict should have provided the death penalty.

Recently at the residence of the bride's brother, Greely Hatcher, at Cliff, Mrs. Katie C. Googler was united in marriage to Mr. J. B. Plemons, of Paris, Ky. The bride and groom left this morning for the latter's home at Paris. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hatcher, of Cliff.

The funeral of the late Hon. A. B. Stephens at Prestonsburg, Friday, was one of the largest ever conducted in the Sandy Valley. There were in the procession one hundred Masons and thirty Elks, while friends from Prestonsburg, Pikeville and the entire vicinity were in attendance.

eloquent in delivery. The earnest manner and fine voice of the speaker added much to the attractiveness of what he said. Illustrative incident was not lacking. The telling of the interchange of messages between two ships, each below the horizon, was very effective, and we can shut our eyes and see the sun shining on the cross on the church near Newport after the elemental war had ceased.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM MANY STATES

Important News Gathered from Abroad for the Benefit of Our Readers.

Col. E. W. Lillard, Representative-elect from Boyle county, has decided to make the race for Speaker of the House.

The monument which will be erected to the memory of William Goebel has been completed and the committee which had its construction in charge at a meeting in Frankfort, decided to hold the ceremonies unveiling it in May, the exact date to be fixed later.

The Republican Contest Commission at Lexington has filed contest papers in the Circuit Court against all Democratic municipal officers from Mayor elect John Skain down. The chief grounds for contest recited are alleged frauds at the regular and supplementary registration, illegal redistricting of city, and intimidation of voters by police at the polls on registration and election days.

Glasgow, Ky. Nov. 15 One thousand turkeys perched on trees, fences and houses on one of the main streets of a town even the size of Glasgow is unusual, but to such a sight the residents of East Main street was treated about dark, and until the gathering gloom completely shut them from view a large crowd watched them.

The cause of this strange procedure was no arranged plan, but purely an accident, so far as the owners of the birds are concerned, and very much against their desire in the matter.

The turkeys were being brought here from the back country to be slaughtered for the Thanksgiving trade and when only a few blocks from Davida Bros' produce house dark came on, and the turkeys decided to "go to camp" so to speak, and before the men who were driving them could realize their intentions they began to fly into trees, on houses, and any place that offered a roost.

Kentucky ranks ninth among the corn producing states, according to a bulletin just issued. This year's crop of corn reaches 87,302,000 bushels, the average yield per acre being 25 bushels, up 33 last year.

Owensboro, Ky. November 15. Another fire of incendiary origin took place last night, this time on the farm of R. G. Walker, near Yelvington when one of the big tobacco barns within 100 yards of his residence, was completely destroyed. The barn contained 2,000 pounds of fine tobacco besides a large number of farming implements and 4,000 feet of lumber. The loss is at least $1,000. There is no insurance.

Frankfort Ky. November 15. It was announced today that one of the important bills to come before the next Legislature will be to prohibit any officeholder from serving as State, County, or City Committeeman for any political party. The author of the bill, it is said intends it to be the first step in reorganizing the Democratic committees all over Kentucky. Such a bill would affect the Republican committees as well, and the bill will be strongly opposed by many men in both parties.

It has been customary to allow the Lieutenant Governor to appoint the standing committees of the Senate when he is of the same political faith as the majority of the Senate but in 1896, when the first Republican Lieutenant Governor was serving as presiding officer of the Senate this body, which was Democratic, adopted resolutions naming a special committee of Democrats to appoint the standing committees. The committees were named and everything worked along nice and smooth.

The incoming Lieutenant Governor, W. H. Cox, is of course a Republican and the Senate is Democratic by a majority of six. It is likely that history will repeat itself in January and the Democrats will assert the right of the majority to name the committees.

Louisville, November 15. Somewhere between Louisville and Frankfort is a package containing money which was to have been used in paying Jefferson county teachers for their work during October. The teachers have been anxiously awaiting the arrival of the currency, for the financial stringency has not skipped even the pedagogues. Mrs Rosa Stone street was forced to issue a reluctant announcement today that the pay rolls could not be put into effect tomorrow, as she had hoped. The money, which was sent by Superintendent Fuqua, at Frankfort, should have reached here last Monday. Just where it is a mystery that is worrying both the local and state officials.

About two and one-half miles from the little village of Crab Orchard stands the oldest brick house in Kentucky. It was built by Col. Wm. Whitley in 1783. Col. Whitley was one of the first settlers of Kentucky. He was a comrade of Boone, Kenton, Henderson and Clark. After leaving the forts of Boonesboro and Logan he came to the present site of Crab Orchard and erected the first brick house in the State, says the Stanford Interior Journal. Mr. Whitley went to Virginia to secure the material with which to furnish his house. The house is very quaintly built and ornamented with many carvings.

On each end of the house glazed brick are arranged so as to form diamonds, which adds much to its appearance. The windows are built seven feet from the ground as a protection from the Indians. The doors are made of two layers of plank put on a frame diagonally and driven full of nails. As no locks were obtainable in those days, bars were used to fasten the doors.

Washington, November 15. Governor elect Willson, of Kentucky, who is coming to Washington next week to visit Associate Justice Harlan, of the Supreme Court, will have a talk with the President while in the city. The appointment has been made and matters of interest to Kentuckians generally will be discussed. The conference promises to be of unusual importance from the mere fact that it may have some bearing upon the character of the Kentucky delegation to the next Republican National Convention.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee is in either. Health Coffee imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert were he to unknowingly drink it for Coffee. D. C. Spencer.

I will try and give you a few items from this place. Farmers are still thrashing wheat and hauling to this city, and some gathering in potatoes which are an abundant crop here. I can say as a boy from old Kentucky that I have seen some of the largest potatoes here that I ever saw grow in the earth. Everything is a good price here. Wheat is 50c. a bushel, potatoes $1.15 a bushel, coal $8.00 a ton. Eggs 20c. a dozen. Apples 60c. a peck. Green beans 15 cents a lb. Bacon 20c. Pork 10 to 20c. steak 12 to 20c. But wages are good here for all kinds of work from $175 to $200 a day. I will bring this letter to a close hoping to hear from all the old correspondents of the News. Success to the News and its many readers is the wish of your friend and scribe, R. F. M.

OUR WEST VIRGINIA NEIGHBORS

Without doubt the largest coal operation that has ever been inaugurated in the world was given its first impetus this week when coal was for the first time shipped from a coal mining town called Dorothy, W. Va. in Raleigh county, and from one of the richest and most productive coal fields known even in the vast coal areas of the United States. Pittsburgh and eastern men have this huge undertaking in hand, and for over a year have been preparing for the mining of the fuel.

Several veins of coal underlie 67,600 acres of land in Raleigh county each vein being above ground.

Another of the frequent fatal accidents happening on the railroad occurred just below the tunnel below Williamson Tuesday afternoon, when Jake Huff was crushed to death under the wheels of the engine pulling No. 16. Huff was walking on the track, and stepped off one track to get out of the way of a freight only to get into the path of the swiftly moving passenger train. Death was instantaneous.

William Ferguson, one of Wayne county's oldest and best known citizens, died at his home Monday evening. The death of Mr. Ferguson can not be attributed to any special disease, but was the result of general debility, being 82 years of age past.

All of his children living, James Ferguson, of Moundsville, A. W. Ferguson, of Wayne, William Ferguson, of Bluffton, Indiana, and Mrs. Lawrence Dickerson, of Radnor, Ohio, were at his bedside at the time of his death. Mr. Ferguson was born and brought up in the county and had been a useful citizen. The news of his demise will be received with general regret.

Alex. Stafford, one of the citizens of the Guyan section of Mingo Co. has recently closed a long and difficult deal with C. W. Clegg and C. D. Lowery of Huntington. By terms of the contract all the mineral under on a tract of 110 acres goes to the above mentioned gentlemen.

The final uniform examination for this year will be held at Wayne on the 29th and 30th of November. All teachers wanting to take the examination must be on hand promptly Friday morning.

WHEELING, W. Va. November 16. George W. Clegg, chief engineer in the Wheeling Postoffice and Custom House, was crushed to death under the elevator car in the building this morning.

We are certainly glad to report Kellogg on the boom. John Stuart, of Fort Gay, has purchased 50 acres of land from Mr. Caldwell and has nearly completed his new home. Bert Drake, of Huntington has purchased the Bromley farm, from Z. T. Vinson—Advance.

Little Miss Ruby Layne, daughter of L. O. Layne, living with her grandmother at Kenova, was burned to death Tuesday night. The little girl was left alone in a room and when her grandmother returned the little girl was on fire. Everything possible was done to save the child, but death claimed her—Advance.

IN MEMORY.

The angel of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Boggs on the 1st and took from them their darling boy Winfield, age three years eight months. He was a bright little boy and will be missed by all.

We would say to the bereaved parents and grandparents to weep not for Winfield. He has only fell asleep in the arms of Jesus, who said: "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Your loss is little Winfield's gain. He has gone to that better land, where there is no sickness nor death, and some day soon all join him where parting is no more.

Girlhood and Scott's Emulsion are linked together.

The girl who takes Scott's Emulsion has plenty of rich, red blood; she is plump, active and energetic.

The reason is that at a period when a girl's digestion is weak, Scott's Emulsion provides her with powerful nourishment in easily digested form.

It is a food that builds and keeps up a girl's strength.

THANKSGIVING REVERIES.

For many years, aye, almost since first this country had a name, it has been the custom of the people to set apart one day in the year, after harvest time, for thanksgiving and praise to the Great Ruler of the universe for His loving kindness and tender mercies. Who can live in beautiful America and not believe that there is a God and that it is His pleasure to prosper the liberty loving people of this great country? The evidences, strong, indisputable, convincing, are on every hand.

The greatest of feast days in America should be one of rejoicing and thanksgiving by all the people. This is the harvest time for the ingathering of thanks for the blessings of the year. Thanksgiving Day was first established in the United States by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, New England, replacing Christmas as the great family festival, and has been gradually adopted in other parts of the country. Congress recommended days of thanksgiving annually during the Revolution, and Washington, in 1789, after the adoption of the constitution. Other days of national thanksgiving have been proclaimed, and since 1863 the last Thursday in November has been annually proclaimed by the president as a national Thanksgiving Day.

In this munificent land of ours as void of famine, pestilence and disaster common to other lands, and where peace and plenty so universally abound, and civilization in its highest type so exalts humanity, we are truly doubly blessed and our autumns are golden in more ways than one, and as sowers and reapers, the children of men, particularly in the bounds of this latitude, can do no less in gratitude than absorb and reflect the sunshine so lavished upon them.

Freely we receive, then freely give. Bless as ye are blessed;

Yield forth in this life you live.

The purest and the best.

This is the harvest time for thanks. True, there have been trials, calamities in some places, homes destroyed, losses and sorrows, but taking the country over our blessings have been very many and far outnumbered the dark appalling things of life. In spite of many evils there has been as much of true sympathy, of genuine benevolence, of a cordial spirit of brotherly love and good fellowship, we can keep our thanksgiving in the spirit of the scriptural admonition, "Be ye thankful."

The financial scare in the cities is over and business is getting back to its normal condition.

According to the Ceredo Advance Congressman Hughes says he is not a candidate for Governor.

A man in Ohio has started a boom for Augustus E. Willis for the Republican nomination for President and Maysville, Ky., Republicans are joining in the game.

John K. Hendrick is a receptive candidate for Senator. A boom for him has been started by a western Kentucky Democratic newspaper, and Mr. Hendrick has declined to say at this time whether or not he will make the race.

A petition asking the pardon of Henry Youtsey, convicted of complicity in the murder of William Goebel, has been prepared by Youtsey and will be circulated in Frankfort and Franklin county. An effort will be made to get Democrats to sign it, and the paper will be presented to Gov. Beckham before he goes out of office on December 10.

That the next Legislature will have a stupendous task on its hands at the next session in redistricting the State into legislative districts in conformity with the decision of the Court of Appeals is the opinion of those who have given the subject notice.

The opinion of the State's highest court is far-reaching and it closes with the significant statement that it is presumed that the next Legislature will recognize its duty and redistrict the State according to the Constitution.

William J. Bryan in a statement given out in Lincoln, Neb., says he will not ask for or seek the Democratic presidential nomination and will not assume to decide the question of availability. If he can serve the party by being its candidate, he says, he will accept the nomination and make the best fight he can. If, however, the choice falls upon another, Mr. Bryan says he will not be disappointed or disgruntled. His availability, he thinks, is a question to be decided by the voters of the party.

The vote in Lawrence county on the constitutional amendment to require voters to pay their previous years taxes before they could vote, stood 107 for and 1099 against. It deserved a better fate. Any man not exempt, who refuses to pay his taxes should not be allowed a voice in the affairs of government. He should put up or shut up. Many misunderstood the proposition. It provided that the taxes due in 1906 must be paid 60 days before the election in 1907, and so on. This gives the voter eighteen months after the Sheriff gets the books.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Cortelyou are receiving many congratulations upon their action to relieve the financial stress which has existed in some of the large cities for two or three weeks. They announced Monday that $50,000,000 of Panama bonds would be put on sale at once. The bids to close on Nov. 30th. Also, they will sell $100,000,000 of U. S. notes bearing 3 per cent. Interest redeemable in a year. This will relieve the stringency in currency, which is the whole trouble in the present sit-

Destroys Hair Germs

Recent discoveries have shown that falling hair is caused by germs at the roots of the hair. Therefore, to stop falling hair, you must first completely destroy these germs. Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formulas, will certainly do this. Then leave the rest to nature.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Recent discoveries have also proved that dandruff is caused by germs on the scalp. Therefore, to cure dandruff, the first thing to do is to completely destroy these dandruff germs. Here, the same Ayer's Hair Vigor will give the same splendid results.

ulation. The handling of the heavy crops produced this year requires more money than there is in circulation. A very large proportion of the products goes to Europe and when the money comes from there in payment for these crops the scarcity of the circulating medium will be still further relieved. The bond issue will answer present needs because it will bring from its hiding place much hoarded money, and when this goes into the Treasury it will be placed on deposit with banks throughout the United States, and in this way be put into circulation.

While more of a scare than anything else, the present flurry has served temporarily to retard business considerably, lower prices, and reduce the working forces at many places. The situation is now greatly improved, however, and everything is expected to be going along as usual in a week or two.

GALLUP.

Married, on the 12th, Miss Fairy Blanche Back to Malcolm Priest. The bride is the daughter of W. F. Back and the groom one of Gallup's highly respected young men. They were married in Louisa and went to the home of the groom the next day, where a sumptuous dinner was spread, and relatives and friends largely partook. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wellman, of Fort Gay, were here over Sunday. Our new preacher is to be here next Sunday. Let us all attend.

Red Rose.

Color Blindness.
What is color blindness is sometimes the result of a lack of education as to the different colors. In such a case the remedy is instruction in the various colors. But when color blindness is the result of a defect of the nerves of the eyes there is no remedy.

Teach Doctors to Cook.
A Berlin physician is endeavoring to have a course in cooking introduced into the medical curriculum. He says doctors are in the habit of prescribing a diet for their patients with regard only to its chemical ingredients, forgetting the importance of an appetizing method of preparation.

A Daily Thought.
I bid you live in peace and patience, without fear of hatred, and to succor the oppressed and to love the lovely, and to be the friends of men, so that when ye are dead at last men may say of you: They brought down heaven to earth for a little while—William Morris.

Average Height of Elephants.
In reference to the height of elephants ten feet in males and eight feet six inches in females—vertical height at shoulders, measured as a horse—are very rarely attained, and are not exceeded by one animal in five hundred.

Clean Food.
To eat or not to eat flesh foods, that is a question which will hardly be settled by general consent for some generations; but every one will agree on the wisdom of insisting upon guarantees that our foodstuffs shall be clean, unadulterated and sound.

Gained Honor by Jumping.
The question of who should get the nomination was settled here in this way: We had a big jumping match, and Bill Jones jumped fifteen feet and won the nomination for coroner—Whitser (Ga.) Courier.

Good Advice.
"Drink less, breathe more; eat less, chew more; ride less, walk more; clothe less, bathe more; worry less, work more; waste less, give more; write less, read more; preach less, practice more."

First American Cent.
The first cents struck at the United States mint at Philadelphia were of large size. The copper blanks, or planchets, were imported from England, being sent over in kegs.

For Her Own Derision.
A recent Mrs. Partington who was asked to sing on a company occasion said she only sang when she was alone—just for her own derision—Judge.

Curious Coincidence.

The harvest festival was being held in Old Windsor parish church, England, and a verse in the Psalm, "Thou makest darkness and it is night," had just been reached, when all the electric lights went out. A number of candles were borrowed from neighboring houses, and these were fixed upon the pews, so that the service might be concluded.

Heart Interest.

Men love naturally all that comes from the heart, all that is great, all that dazzles, and even all that is strange. A heroic act or a single act of generosity moves them infallibly and provokes their enthusiasm. They see these acts; they do not see the justice in the heart of the just—Jules Simon.

Dress by Inspiration.

Painful results are produced by the fondness of women for clothing themselves in anything they happen to know others are wearing. The same forms and colors are repeated indefinitely without any regard to their fitness to the wearer. Truly intelligence in dress comes by inspiration alone and cannot be bought.

Was Clothed in Tobacco.

A priest has been arrested at Aiglencourt, on the Franco-Belgian frontier, for smuggling. His luggage was full of cigars, and when he was stripped he was found to be wearing around his body a layer of tobacco and cigars over an inch in thickness. The man was clothed in tobacco, and 3,000 cigars were taken from the layer.

Game.

Let us all with one accord get busy in the matter of protecting game—but let us all at the same time with one accord get busy in the matter of squelching the fools who think they know all about it, yet know nothing beyond the political side of it.—N. Y. Press.

Keeping Goat in Stable.

There is an old fashioned precaution of keeping a goat in a stable. Supposing always that the animals are loose, the goat will leave the stable on the outbreak of fire, and the horses will follow the goat when no amount of persuasion from man will get the terrified creatures to budge.

His Great Idea.

Gilbert, the small son of a minister, was one day trying to construct a church with his building blocks, but found he hadn't enough blocks. "Say, papa," he inquired gravely, "can't you hold up your congregation for funds to finish my church?"

Baths in Schools.

The school board of Pittsburg, Pa., has decided to install a system of baths in one of its school buildings. This will be for the use of the school children during the day, while the mothers will be permitted to bring children after school hours.

Steeplechase for Women.

A steeplechase for women, held annually in Calcutta, is believed to be the only existing event of its kind. The course is two and a half miles long, with many mud fences, and the prize consists of a handsome cup.

Uncle Allen.

"I see," quoth Uncle Allen Sparks, "that my old friend Mr. Rockefeller says he's a socialist 'in a sense.' Well, maybe he is, but when it comes to dollars, by George, he's about the biggest individualist I know of!"

Noble Birth.

It is no exaggeration to say that the vast majority of peers are in their origin associated with memories not of honor but of shame.—London Truth.

Feathers.

The feathers used in millinery, taken from live birds, are the ostrich feathers. Feathered skins used in millinery, such as the feathers of sea gulls, are taken from the dead birds.

Bad for the Bluffer.

When the currency is colored slate, brown, green, blue, yellow, pink and white many a man who now takes so much pride in dashing his roll of $1 notes will be a miserable being.

Do You Own the Ground?

We will never have universal peace until each nation is satisfied with the piece it has.—Judge.

Unhappiness.

Have You Seen It?

How to Prepare Simple Mixture to Overcome Disease.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription, states a well-known authority in a Cleveland morning paper, forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which cause Rheumatism.

As Rheumatism is not only the most painful and tortuous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly. Our druggists here say they will either supply these ingredients or make the mixture ready to take, if any of our readers so prefer.

IS HARMLESS.

How to Prepare Simple Mixture to Overcome Disease.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription, states a well-known authority in a Cleveland morning paper, forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which cause Rheumatism.

As Rheumatism is not only the most painful and tortuous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly. Our druggists here say they will either supply these ingredients or make the mixture ready to take, if any of our readers so prefer.

Farm News.

I have been asked so often recently the cause of the slump in mules, that I am constrained to say a few things. In the first place they have been too high. In fact the market has been so bare that farmers and dealers could sell almost any kind of a horse or mule at good prices. In the second place, for several years there has been so much demand for mules on public works that contractors have been buying them in large numbers. Now the worldwide tightness in money matters has made many contractors throw their mules on the market regardless of cost, hence the price has weakened. Recently when in the south one of the superintendents of the southern division of the Southern railway told me he had to abandon all improvements until they could obtain cheaper money. The high prices prevailing for all products has made a greater demand for money, hence the scarcity here and almost everywhere, except the southern cotton planter. However, for several years past, they have bought so largely that there will be a demand, but not as large demand as we have had in previous years, and farmers must make up their minds to sell them cheaper. I am asked daily by farmers what to do with surplus mules. Feed them carefully and don't let them run out and get bad hair in the warm stables, and take care of them like you would one of your children, and in March they will sell at good prices. I wish I could ring this in the ear of every farmer until they would care for their stock better. I say frankly the southern planters that were at one time indifferent about their horses and mules have quit this, and in any southern town the farmers care for their stock, paying 75 cents for corn and $25 for hay, better than the farmers do in Jessamine county where we can raise any kind of feed. Laziness would kill, many would die right here in the bluegrass, blessed as no country in the world is. All it requires is push, pluck and perseverance. Don't sacrifice your stock now. Don't make an already weak market weaker. You say feed is high; yes it is but higher south than it is here. Take the best possible care of your stock all through the winter and in the spring you will be well repaid. The country has not gone to the bow wows. Money is tight, but this will make us feel better when it loosens up, and it always gets right in time.

Respectfully.

HIGH PRICES FOR FEED.

The ordinary feeds usually fed to dairy cows are so high priced at this time that there is danger that dairymen will figure that they cannot afford to feed them, and indeed it does seem expensive to feed bran when it is $25 to $28 per ton and wheat middlings at $30 per ton, corn meal at $25 a ton, etc. The average farmer feeds ground corn and oats. Oats are now worth 55 cents and 60 cents per bushel and this makes an expensive ration. To be sure the price of dairy products are high, and the farmer is apt to look at the cost of feed only and figure that he cannot afford to feed grain at the present prices. By a little figuring, however, he can work out a good ration which will cost but little more than usual. If one has good corn ensilage to feed and clover hay as he ought to have he can balance up a ration for the dairy cow by simply using cotton seed meal. Cotton seed meal is exceedingly rich in protein, and will balance up the carbohydrates in the ensilage. Then again it feeds nicely with these two products as roughage. To feed it alone it does not haul well, as it is so fine that it sticks to the manger, sticks to the cow's nose and in her mouth, some of it is wasted, but where ensilage is fed cotton seed meal can be put upon the ensilage and it sticks to that and works very nicely. Cotton seed meal is very little higher in price than it ever is, only $4 or $5 a ton higher. Take into consideration the protein content, and it does not increase the cost of the ration so much. Cotton seed meal contains very much cotton seed meal contains only about 15 per cent. Hence you can balance up a ration with corn ensilage and cotton seed meal, one ton of cotton seed meal is worth near as much as three tons of bran.

Farmers have had ten years of good crops and good prices. In most of these years they have had both deficiencies in one crop and one cotton crop were more than made good to them by high prices. Last year they took in more money than ever before, and this year they are likely to take in $1,000,000,000 more than they did last year. They will buy freely many sorts of merchandise and they will have money to invest. Good business is about as certain as it can be for another year, proving over again that when the farmer is prosperous everybody is prosperous.

The ideal family laxative is one that can be used by the entire family young and old weak and strong, without any danger of harmful effects, otherwise the quantity will have to be increased and finally lose its effect altogether. These properties can be found in the old family remedy, Bradreth's Pill, because its ingredients are of the purest herbal extracts, and every pill is kept for three years before being sold, which allows them to mellow. We do not believe there is a laxative on the market that is so carefully made.

Bradreth's Pill are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used. They have been in use for over a century and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

Carrie the 1 year old daughter of Henderson Wells was badly burned Wednesday morning with hot water about the face and breast. The mother was getting breakfast and the child came in to wash. She had just poured out a cup of boiling water when a younger brother threw his hands over his head, and knocked the cup of water on Carrie's face and breast scalding her very badly. The girl almost had spasms. Her clothes were torn off as quick as possible the steam boiling off her face and breast. The skin came off the child's breast and neck. She has been very bad but seems to be looking better now. The worst burn seems to be on her throat about the collar bone and on the right side of the chest which is very dangerous. The parents and family have our sympathy.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. World's Temperance Sunday

Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 24, 1907
Specially Prepared for This Paper

LESSON TEXT.—Romans 14:12-23. Memory Verses, 17, 18.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Judge this rather, no man put a stumbling-block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way."—Romans 14:13.

LIGHT FROM OTHER SCRIPTURES.—DRUNKENNESS.—Deut. 21:20, 21; Prov. 20:1, 21; 23:29, 31; 24:34, 35; Isa. 5:11, 22; Hab. 3:17; Matt. 24:49, 50; Luke 21:34; 1 Cor. 6:9-11.

TEMPERANCE.—Rom. 13:13; 1 Cor. 5:5, 6; 1 Tim. 3:2, 3, 8; Tit. 2:2; 1 Pet. 4:7.

The Principals Paul Laid Down for Our Guidance.—Va. 12:23. The method of settlement is that employed all through the Bible, of laying down general principles, and not definite rules and commands. For the principles abide eternally, but the application of them varies continually. We have no trouble whatever about some of the questions which almost rent the ancient church asunder. They were settled long ago. But we must apply the same principles to our modern problems. The application of great divine principles to our daily lives in varying circumstances is a large part of the discipline by which we grow in grace and develop a strong and holy character.

First. The Law of Liberty.—V. 12; 1 Cor. 8:9; 10:29; Gal. 2:4.

V. 12. "So then." As a conclusion from what Paul had been saying. "Every one of us shall give account of himself to God." Each is responsible to God and must act as in his sight. No one can lord it over his brother in the Christian church. Each one must define his duty so far as concerns himself. Liberty does not prevent any one from holding decided opinions, and speaking of them, and arguing for them. Liberty is not indifference. Permitting liberty does not endorse all that is permitted.

Second.—Va. 12, 22, 23. "The fulness of good must be balanced by the fullest sense of responsibility to God."—Expositor's Greek Testament. "For we shall all stand before the Judgment-seat of Christ" (v. 10).

V. 22. "Hast thou faith?" Do you really believe that what you are doing is right and approved by God? "Have it to thyself before God." Rejoice in this liberty of yours in the presence of the Father. "We still keep this joy and strength of liberty even when for love's sake we forego the particular acts from which, if we considered only ourselves and God, we should not be debarred."—Lyman Abbott. "Happy is he that condemneth not himself," who is so convinced that his course is right that his conscience never condemns him, even when he "sits alone with his conscience" amid the manifestations of God's power.

V. 23. "He that doubteth" is unsettled in his conscience as to what is right for himself. Abbott translates, "He that disputeth with himself." "Is damned" is condemned, the usual meaning of the Greek word. He has no right to do an act which he feels may injure others. "Whatsoever is not of faith is sin." "All that a man cannot do renounces that he is Christ's—all that he cannot do with the judgment seat (v. 10) and the cross (v. 15) and all their restraints and inspirations present to his mind—is sin."

Third. Toward such persons we are forbidden to have either a censorious or a contemptuous estimate of their character. V. 13. "Let us not therefore judge one another," not condemn those who honestly do not act things as we do. We must allow others the same liberty we ask for ourselves. Condemning as unchristian others who honestly differ from us may be quite as great a sin as that of the one condemned.

But Note (1) that this does not require one to refrain from arguing against any course as injurious. (2) That the principal does not mean that we should never do anything which others do not like, at which they take offense, or with which they find fault.

Nor that in any case should we yield in a duty or a teaching, because some may stumble even over the truth. Even Christ could not so act that none took offense. Paul could not.

Fourth.—Va. 13:16. V. 13. "But judge this rather." That is, turn your judgment to yourselves, and see to it that by your use of your liberty you do not cause others to fall into sin. We are never to give up our liberty of thought and action, but to use it in the right way, as in the verses that follow. "An occasion to fall." It is contrary to the very essence of the gospel to put a stumbling-block in the way of any, and especially of the weak and tempted.

V. 14. "I know, and am persuaded by," rather, as R. V., "is" "the Lord Jesus," abiding in his presence and filled with his spirit. In one case troubling the church Paul felt perfectly sure that he was right so far as his conscience was concerned.

Testimony of Business Men.

"I think that this is the best time in the world for the best kind of boys."

"Do employers take more account of the character and habits of the boys whom they employ than they used to?" "They certainly do, and this is especially true of the big corporations like the railroads."

"A watch is constantly kept on the boy, and if he is found smoking it counts against him; if he keeps late hours he is at a discount compared with the boy who goes to bed early; if he drinks or gambles it is fatal to him."
